Elders:

During this last month, our sermons and our church have focused on the "Good Shepherd". The elders and all of you, members of a flock, have a very important job to fulfill in our church - the Body of Christ. We are all called to know and care for each other. Knowing and caring for each other is not a part-time job. Knowing and caring for each other can be a lot of work. Knowing and caring for each other is a command from our Savior Jesus Christ. We have been sent, by Him, to go out into our churches and communities to spread the Good News of Jesus Christ. How can we do this? Be the example of Him, Jesus Christ. Love each other, get to know everyone in your church, help each other, be kind and patient with each other. Be bold and confident in sharing the Word of God. This all starts with a "hello", a handshake, a hug, and by having a sincere personal relationship with Jesus Christ. ~ Doug Morningstar- Head Elder
